SUPREME COURT

Ontario County
Andrew E. Ceperley, plaintiff, against Gertrude V. Ceperley, defendant.

In pursuance of the interlocutory judgment in the above entitled action for the partition of real property by the said Gertrude V. Ceperley, the clerk of the Ontario county on Feb. 5, 1923, the undersigned, referee in said action, do hereby give notice that I will sell the same in parcels at public auction at the front door of the Municipal building in the city of Oneonta, Ontario county, New York, on Wednesday, March 21, 1923, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon.

The parcels to be sold are described as follows:
Parcel One—All that tract or parcel of land situated in the city of Oneonta, in the county of Ontario and state of New York, described in the warranty deed from Graham L. Pratt and wife to the said William McCrum, dated Sept. 15, 1922, recorded in the office of the clerk of Ontario county in Liber 234, of deeds, page 58, as follows: to wit: Beginning at the dead end of the map of E. L. Ford, dated May 10, 1917, made by J. K. L. Watling, civil engineer, from his survey for said E. L. Ford, said lot No. 11, is bounded as follows: to wit: Commencing in the westerly line of Maple street at northeast corner of lot No. 10, thence N. 1 degree, 15 minutes, E. 32 1/2 feet, thence N. 88 degrees 45 minutes, W. 156 feet, thence S. 1 degree, 10 minutes, W. 32 1/2 feet, thence S. 88 degrees 45 minutes, E. 106 feet, to the place of beginning, in west bounds of Maple street and contains sixty rods of land more or less, reference may be had to the deed of William McCrum and Lydia, his wife, to George T. Yager, dated August 20, 1922, and recorded in Liber 234 of Deeds of Ontario county, page 58.

Excepting from said first parcel the premises conveyed by George T. Yager and wife to J. Henry Potter by deed dated August 21, 1922, and recorded in Ontario county clerk's office in book 234 of deeds at page 58.

That said premises has a frontage of about 4 1/2 feet on Maple street and is about 200 feet in depth and is subject to easement right of way along the southerly line of said lot extending 150 feet back from the street and being 12 feet wide, of which the center line is the southerly boundary of this.

SHOCKING COLLISION

Efforts of Augusta A. Courrier to Secure Divorce 1 Mile When Court Accidents Facts.

Supreme Court Justice A. L. Kellogg has handed down a decision in the action brought by Augusta A. Courrier against Ralph J. Courrier, in which Claude V. Smith appeared for the plaintiff and Seybolt & Seybolt for the defendant.

The opinion of the court refusing the decree is interesting, disclosing as it does a case of collusion so flagrant as to be almost unbelievable. The court says:

This is an action for divorce on the statutory grounds.

After a most careful consideration of all the evidence in the case, a decree in favor of the plaintiff must be denied. It is obvious that the adultery charged in the complaint and sought to be proved on the trial, was beyond all question the result of collusion between the parties to the action.

The defendant's apparent agreement with the plaintiff to commit adultery was very properly asked over between them, and the plan and indeed so well perfected that the plaintiff and her sister accompanied the defendant to the door of an alleged house of ill fame and stood on the outside for some half hour and upwards until he reappeared.

The conclusion is inevitable that every provision of the statute has been violated. That the adultery which it was sought to have the defendant commit, was not only with the consent, but with the connivance, privity and procurement of the plaintiff.

It appears that after the defendant had purported to have carried out his part of the collusion, as well as unlawful contract, he thereupon committed the adultery, which appeared for him as the act of the plaintiff, and acting under their advice, made a confession in open court of the entire transaction.

For the reasons stated, the decree must be refused, with costs and disbursements of the action to the defendant.

REPORTS A PROSPEROUS YEAR.

Mutual Life Insurance Company of New York Gives Figures.

The Mutual Life Insurance company of New York, the oldest American life insurance company, reports a highly prosperous year in 1922. The company's assets for 1922 totaled $22,465,950. This was a gain of almost fifty millions over the previous year. The outstanding insurance on December 31 reached the imposing total of $2,630,602,737.

Payments to policyholders and beneficiaries in 1922 were $103,690,257, and receipts from policyholders were $98,072,420. Death claim payments were $30,205,046; endowments were $10,713,085; annuities were $2,552,618, and $20,046,105 in dividends were paid to policyholders—the company is purely mutual and has no stockholders.

The company's mortality experience in 1922 was extremely favorable and contributed materially to the earnings which are an element in dividend payments. The company increased its dividend scale in 1922, and in 1923 there will be a still further increase, $22,465,950 having been set aside for current dividends.

Taxes caused a heavy charge, namely, $2,552,792, for federal, state, county and municipal taxes.

The assets on December 31 were $22,465,950; the liabilities were $65,793,435; and the surplus or contingency reserve was $37,332,152. The increase in assets during the year was $13,620,126, and the increase in surplus was $9,280,565.

The life insurance business is barometric, the volume of new issues rising or falling with business prosperity or depression. With all signs pointing to a continuance in 1923 of the same healthy business condition which came in 1922, it is likely that, although last year was an unusually prosperous year from the viewpoint of new insurance issued, 1923 will probably be even better.

Corporations, partnerships and individual business have become employers of life insurance to an enormous extent, and a steady increase in the volume of such insurance is one of the certainties of 1923 and future years.

People of means are more and more becoming acquainted with the value of life insurance for the payment of estate and inheritance taxes, and this form of insurance protection is bound to be sought far more generally than it yet has been.

FOR RURAL SCHOOL COMMISSION

Senator Downing Proposes Community School Boards.

Trustees of every rural school district in the state will be directly affected if a bill introduced by Senator Bernard Downing, Democrat in the state senate becomes a law.

It seeks first the creation of a state commission for rural education, whose members would be the commissioner of education and two others to be appointed by the governor.

Under the state commission would be county commissions, each consisting of four members, two from a town school district and two from a village district, to be appointed by the board of supervisors. Under the county commission would be an intermediate district board composed of members from several community school districts. Then there would be community district boards of rural education, whose membership would be determined by the county board. Finally, each district in the community would have a member of the community district board.

The state commission for rural education would be the chief executive body of the system and would determine appropriate assistance to the formation of the community districts.

The Downing bill, however, would apply only to districts of less than 4,500 inhabitants in which no superintendents of schools had been appointed.

Under the Downing bill the community board would become the taxing body and would be required to prepare a budget by July 1 of each year for the ensuing year. The budget would have to be adopted by Sept. 1 following. After that the board would be authorized to borrow money in anticipation of the receipt of tax monies. The community board would be authorized to levy taxes, which would be collected according to the provisions of the present education law. State aid to the community districts would be apportioned in accordance with the taxable resources of each district.

TODAY I AM REAL WELL

So Writes Woman After Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Jameson, N. Y. — "I was nervous, easily excited and discouraged and had no ambition. Part of the time I was not able to sit up as I suffered with pains in my back and with weakness. I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, both the liquid and tablet forms, and I feel like a new woman. Today I am real well and run a nursing home and do the work. I recommend your medicine to every woman who complains, and you may use my letter to help any one else. I am passing through the change of life now and I keep the Vegetable Compound in the house, ready to take when I feel the need of it." — Mrs. ALICE D. DAVIS, 20 W. Second St., Jamestown, N. Y.

Often some slight derangement may cause a general upset condition of the whole system, indicated by such symptoms as nervousness, backache, lack of ambition and general weakness. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will be found a splendid medicine for such troubles. In many cases it has removed the cause of the trouble.

Weeks with her brother in New York City. Mrs. and Mrs. John A. Smith of Oneonta spent Sunday with their son, John, in New York City. The family enjoyed a very pleasant trip from the night train where they arrived in New York. Mrs. and Mrs. John A. Smith will be in town on Thursday of last week, the occasion being Mr. Rockwell's birthday.

Milford M. E. Church Notes.

KILLED AT WELLS BRIDGE

Track Walker Struck by D. & H. Passenger Train—Timonist Train on Other Track.

Clarence Place, 35 years old, a D. & H. track walker living at Wells Bridge, was instantly killed at Youmans crossing near that village at 9:25 a. m. Sunday when he was struck by the passenger train from Binghamton. His skull and right hip were fractured and death resulted almost instantly.

As is the habit of track walkers, Place, who was proceeding north toward Wells Bridge, was walking on the southbound main so that all trains on his track would be approaching him. The passenger train, due in Oneonta at 9:35 from Binghamton and in charge of Conductor J. Quigley and Engineer J. Corne, had been forced to take the southbound main because of congestion on the other track.

Place must have heard its whistle but probably very naturally thought that the train, being northbound, was on the other track. He made no endeavor to get off the track and the train, which the engineer was unable to stop in time, struck him squarely, tossing him to the side of the track.

The train was stopped and the body taken aboard and conveyed to Wells Bridge, where Dr. B. W. Stearns of Canadilla was called. He pronounced him dead.

This city was called and after viewing the body ordered its removal to an undertaking parlor.

The unfortunate man had lived with his family in Wells Bridge for about three years, going there from Margaretville. He was twice married.

Surviving him are four sons and six daughters. Three of the children live at home. Funeral services will be held Wednesday afternoon at 2 p. m. from the Wells Bridge Methodist Episcopal church. Rev. H. L. Snyder officiating.

SAD DEATH AT HARTWICK.
Mrs. Susan Merrifield Aspinwall Passed Away Yesterday Morning.

Hartwick, Feb. 5.—Mrs. Susan Merrifield Aspinwall died at her home on West Main street this morning. She had been suffering with heart disease for many years. Services will be held from her late home at 11 a. m. Wednesday and from the Methodist Episcopal church at 12 o'clock with the Rev. Boyce of that church officiating at both services. Interment will be in Hartwick cemetery.

Susan Merrifield was born at this village April 24, 1853. In November, 1871, she was married to William J. Newkirk of Laurens, who died in 1873. By this marriage there are surviving her one daughter, Mrs. William Cronkite, one grandson, Ralph Cronkite, both of Lena, and two granddaughters, Mrs. Jay Potter, also of Lena, and Mrs. Grace Nott of Lawrence, Mass.

On October 29, 1875, she was married to Clark Aspinwall who survives her. By this marriage she had three children, Martha, who died in 1902, and for whom she had never ceased to mourn, and John and George Aspinwall, who reside at home.

Surviving her also are two sisters, Mrs. Lida Hill of Charlotte, Mich., and Mrs. Quack Skues of Utica and two great grandchildren.

Mrs. Aspinwall has been a native sufferer for many years and the family will have the sympathy of a large circle of friends.

Obituary of James Henderson.
Davenport Center, Feb. 5.—James Henderson, who had been in failing health for the past 18 months, passed away at the family home at Davenport Center Saturday. He had been confined to his bed since New Year's day.

Mr. Henderson, who was the youngest and last surviving member of ten children, was born July 29, 1847, in the town of Meridith, where he spent the greater part of his life. He had also resided in Kortright and Davenport. February 12, 1890, he was united in marriage to Margaret Jane Adair of Kortright. Three children were born to them, one boy dying at the age of seven years. Besides the widow he is survived by two children, Robert of East Meridith and Miss Ethel, a trained nurse, who tenderly cared for her father during his illness.

Funeral services will be held at 7 p. m. Tuesday, from the First Methodist Episcopal church, of which he had been a devoted member for many years. His pastor, Rev. Wm. J. Kilpatrick, will have charge of the services and interment will be in the East Meridith cemetery. Mr. Henderson had a host of friends who will sympathize with his death with regret and tender sympathy to the bereaved family.

Famous Old Recipe for Cough Syrup.
Really and quickly made at home, but it quickly does all for coughs, colds, etc.

Thousands of housewives have found that they can save two-thirds of the money usually spent for cough preparations, by using this well-known old recipe for making cough syrup. It is simple and clean but it has no equal in prompt results. It takes right hold of cough and gives immediate relief, usually stopping an ordinary cough in 24 hours or less.

Get 25¢ ounces of Pinex from any drugstore, pour it into a quart bottle, then add 1/2 cup of granulated sugar, 1/2 cup of water, 1/2 cup of lemon juice, 1/2 cup of honey, or corn syrup, instead of sugar syrup. Either way, it tastes good, keeps perfectly, and lasts a family a long time.

It's truly astonishing how quickly it acts, penetrating through every passage of the throat and lungs, loosening and raising the phlegm, soothing and breaking the membranes, and finally bringing the annoying throat and lung troubles to a speedy and permanent end. Nothing better for bronchitis, spasmodic cough, hoarseness or hemorrhoidal wheezes.

There is a special and highly concentrated, medicinal preparation for use when the cough is severe and persistent. It is a powerful expectorant and does not irritate the throat. It is a new discovery, and is highly recommended. The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

OF AN OLD ONEONTA FAMILY.

Colonel S. Walling Dies Monday at Cooperstown Junction.

Sejmon S. Walling, a descendant of one of the earliest families to settle in the present Oneonta township, died at 12:30 Monday morning at his home at Cooperstown Junction, after two days illness of shock. The funeral will be held Wednesday at 10 a. m. at the Packer undertaking rooms on Broad street, this city. Rev. Dr. Pendleton of the Main Street Baptist church will officiate and the body will be placed in the vault for later interment in the family plot in Riverside cemetery.

The deceased was born May 2, 1856, in the town of Oneonta and was a son of Erasmus and Ann (Vater) Walling. His residence was on the old home place on the Oneonta road, about two years ago, when he moved to Cooperstown Junction. His wife, who died in 1890, was Sarah Jane Ostrout of Colliersville. The only surviving members of the family are his stepmother, Mrs. Ida C. Walling, one brother, Alva E. Walling, an uncle, Alonzo Walling, two nephews and five cousins, all residents of Oneonta.

Mr. Walling was by occupation a farmer. He was a great lover of the out-of-doors, delighting in fishing and hunting, and to the last he kept this desire for close companionship with nature. He was a much esteemed man, well known to the older residents of city and vicinity, where all of his life had been spent.

Funeral of Charles O. Taylor.
Funeral services of Charles O. Taylor were held at the family home, 5 VanWoert avenue, yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Dr. Farley of the First Baptist church officiated. Besides relatives and friends, there were representatives of the Stationary Firemen, Engineers and Officers union at the service. The bearers were also members of the union.

The body was placed in the vault of Glenwood cemetery, and in the evening will be interred in the family plot.

Funeral of Albert L. Dingman.
The funeral services of the late Albert L. Dingman were held from the family home near Cliffside at 1 o'clock Saturday afternoon, Feb. 2. Rev. A. L. Dykeman of Worcester officiated. Interment was made in Pine Grove cemetery at Portlandville. Among those present from away were Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Collier of Flint, Mich., Melzo D. Hopkins, Syracuse, and Eugene Derby of Ilion.

DON'T FUSS WITH MUSTARD PLASTERS!
Musterole Works Without the Blister—Easier, Quicker

There's no sense in mixing a mess of mustard, flour and water when you can easily relieve pain, soreness or stiffness with a little clean, white Musterole. Musterole is made of pure oil of mustard and other helpful ingredients.

Musterole usually gives prompt relief from sore throat, bronchitis, tonsillitis, croup, stiff neck, asthma, neuralgia, headache, congestion, pleurisy, rheumatism, lumbago, pains and aches of the back or joints, sprains, sore muscles, bruises, chilblains, frost-bitten feet, colds of the chest (it may prevent pneumonia). 35c and 65c, jars and tubes.

RESOLUTIONS OF RESPECT

Wilber National Bank Pays Fitting Tribute to Memory of Samuel H. Potter.

At a meeting of the directors of the Wilber National bank, held yesterday afternoon, the following resolutions were unanimously adopted:

Whereas: It is with a feeling of unusual sadness that we are again called upon, within a period of a few months, to record the death of one of our associates, the late Mr. Samuel H. Potter. Therefore,

Resolved: That we recognize our loss and deplore the break in our friendship and pleasant business relations. His loyalty to the best interests of the bank, his wise counsel, his more than usual business ability, his deep knowledge of banking, his high sense of honor, his broad information on investments and his care in recommending securities made him of great value to our bank and to our customers.

Resolved: That we tender to the family our sympathy in this, their hour of affliction and sorrow, and express to them our high regard for the honest, upright character of him with whom we have had the pleasure of years of association.

Resolved: That these resolutions be made a part of the records of this bank and a copy be sent to the family, and also published in The Oneonta Star.

Resolutions of respect to the memory of Mr. Potter from the First National and the Second National bank of Cooperstown were also read and filed.

ARTHUR LEWIS ROOT MEMORIAL

New York City Friends Endow Room in New Fifth Avenue Hospital.

At the new Fifth Avenue hospital, New York city, one of the finest hospitals in the world, a room has been handsomely equipped and endowed by friends and former patients of the late Doctor Arthur L. Root, to be known as the "Arthur Lewis Root Memorial."

Dr. Root was deeply interested in the hospital, had given generously toward its building fund and at the time of his death, in April, 1921, was one of its board of directors.

The old Hahnemann hospital on 6th street and Park avenue, where Dr. Root was visiting physician and president of the medical board for more than 20 years, has been merged into the new Fifth Avenue hospital.

Dr. Root was one of the prominent and successful physicians of New York city's West Side. He was, among Star readers will recall, the oldest son of Mrs. Root and the late Mr. C. P. Root of Gilbertsville, and a son of Otsego in whose success citizens of the county have taken pride. That his memory has been thus honored by New York city friends is indeed gratifying to all friends of the family here.

AN OTSEGO BANKRUPT

Charles A. Kammer of Pittsfield Has Debts of $1,929.

Utica, Feb. 5.—Charles A. Kammer of Pittsfield, Otsego county, owes $1,929, which he cannot pay, according to a petition in bankruptcy filed in federal court here. He has no assets for distribution among his creditors.

One creditor, Lauretta Chapin of New Berlin, had a chattel mortgage for $500 on a number of hogs. The hogs were sold and the proceeds were sold with the consent of the creditor.

The five unsecured creditors are the estate of Floyd Whitmore, $250; estate of Irvine Richer, $200; estate of Ross Warner, $200; Matthew Burdette, $150; all of New Berlin, and Morris bank, $100. The petition was filed through James S. Flanagan.

Sister of C. H. Root Dead.

Oneonta friends of C. H. Root of Cobleskill learned yesterday of the death of his sister at Washington, D. C. Mrs. Brown passed away there Saturday morning and the body was brought to Cobleskill yesterday. Besides the brother mentioned she is survived by her mother, one sister, Mrs. Clinton Dowd of Cobleskill, and a young son.
